Recently relocated to the Las Vegas area. Looking to continue working as a retail store manager. Full time or part time. Most of this decade I have worked simultaneously for two different shops in San Francisco and Oakland. I prefer working with smaller size teams over larger ones, and prefer environments with complicated customer service and product offerings as opposed to simply bar code scanning at a POS terminal.

Furniture showroom and art gallery. Selling high end, modern made-to-order European furniture from over three dozen manufacturers. Ran retail showroom. Responsible for all level of sales, including commercial projects with design and architectural firms, and also individual walk-in consumers. Placed orders for custom items with factories. Booked and tracked all levels of delivery, including international sea and air freight, domestic overland and local white glove service. Collaborated on high end interior design projects with architects and designers for national building developers. Worked with roster of museum quality artists who show at international art fairs. Hosted wide range of events in the showroom including: art openings, charity fundraisers, meet-and-greet with local politicians, holiday parties, book release signings and more. Created all marketing graphics for print and digital.

Designed retail store that specializes in investment grade precious metals. Created visual branding and business plan. Have worked in six of these stores aka 'coin shops.' One of three original partners, I sold my share in OSG after retail store launch in 2010 but have continued to work shifts behind the counter as an associate contractor ever since. Familiar with all levels of walk in customers looking to buy, sell or trade gold or silver. Six figure deals down to one dollar. Extensive working knowledge identifying and pricing coins from around the world. Ability to detect counterfeits. Strong personal relationships with various bullion dealer wholesalers. Strong security focus: wore a firearm at work, handled large amounts of cash and gold, inventory goes into safes at closing time.

Additional Abilities:

Basic handyman skills, from covering graffiti to repairing walls or replacing light fixtures.
Exhaustive graphic design and computer experience.
International semi-professional experience as an artist, musician and author.
Puedo leer, escribir y hablar en Español.
